Bacharach and Higgins Earn the Association's Highest Honor

The recipients of the Alumni Association's highest honor were introduced by John Gartland S'44 at the alumni banquet:

We come to that part of the banquet that the Alumni Association holds most dear: the moment when we salute those Jefferson sons and daughters who, by virtue of their exemplary professional achievements, have brought honor and distinction to Jefferson Medical college. Tonight, the Alumni Association acknowledges and salutes two such Jefferson graduates and thanks them for their distinguished professional achievements by presenting them with our highest accolade, the Alumni Achievement Award.

Benjamin (Bud) Bacharach graduated from Jefferson Medical College in 1956. Following a general surgery residency at Jefferson, and a cardiothoracic surgery fellowship at Pennsylvania Hospital, he became Board certified and joined the surgical faculty at the University of Pennsylvania. Three years later, however, Bud saw the light and returned home to join Jefferson's surgical faculty. He advanced steadily in academic rank and by 1983, he was a Clinical Professor of Surgery and Vice Chairman of the Department of Surgery. Bud long has had an interest in cardiac pacemakers and, in addition to inserting them and writing about them, he amassed a fascinating collection of cardiac pacemakers of all types and shapes.

A member of Alpha Omega Alpha Honor Medical Society, Bud also is a fellow of the American College of Surgeons and a member of the Association for Academic Surgery. His scientific publications relate to cardiothoracic issues of concern. He served as President of The Alumni Association in 1981, and the Class of 1993 presented his portrait to Jefferson Medical College.

In 1972, Bud was asked to become Chairman of the President's Club, an important segment of Jefferson's Annual Giving Campaigns. Through the efforts of Bud Bacharach and others, $2.2 million was raised in the 1999 campaign, the largest total in Annual Giving history to that date. Bud Bacharach accepted the position of Associate Dean for Admissions at Jefferson and served admirably in that position from 1983 to 1999, endearing himself to countless Jefferson students along the way. Bud Bacharach's cousin, Bert Bacharach, kept the world humming and singing while Bud, for his part, kept hearts beating rhythmically and kept Jefferson running smoothly.

Charles B. Higgins graduated magna cum laude from Jefferson Medical College in 1967, winning nine prizes at graduation and election to Alpha Omega Alpha Honor Medical Society. Following a radiology residency at the University of California, he took a fellowship in cardiovascular radiology at Stanford University Hospital. Early in his career, he spent three years in basic science research training, which gave him a deep appreciation of the value of research training and mentorship. He was appointed Assistant Professor of Radiology, University of California, San Diego in 1975, and by 1979 was Professor of Radiology. He moved to his present position as Professor of Radiology, University of California, San Francisco in 1983.

Charles Higgins has become a major force in cardiac imaging and now is regarded as the father of cardiac magnetic resonance imaging. His book, Magnetic Resonance Imaging of the Body is a major text in the field. He has received dozens of grants from the National Institutes of Health and from the American Heart

Don Walker

Association for cardiac imaging research. He has published over 600 scientific articles, including landmark studies on cardiovascular response to iodinated contrast media. Some of his important contributions include pioneering work on magnetic imaging research of congenital heart disease and ischemic heart disease. He has received countless national awards in his field of interest. Dr. Higgins is an active cardiovascular researcher, teacher and mentor, and has had a National Institutes of Health Training Grant for the past 18 years, which allows him to serve as mentor to young American scientists. He also has attracted more the 80 research scholars from around the world. The fact that all of these foreign scientists obtained funding from their own country so they could work in his laboratory is a glowing testament to Dr. Higgins's international reputation. He gave the Philip J. Hodes Lecture at Jefferson on June 5, 2001.

His proposer for this award says of Dr. Higgins, "Because of his own contributions as well as his mentorship and training of other investigators, Dr. Higgins is widely regarded as the most influential and important cardiac imager of his generation. He is recognized by his colleagues as a scholar of breadth and depth; a man of vision and tenacity; superb mentor and role model. The very embodiment of a physician-researcher, he has been one of the shining stars of radiology in the 20th century, and he continues to burn brightly."

It is with great pride that Jefferson Medical College presents its Alumni Achievement Awards for 2001 to Dr. Bacharach and Dr. Higgins. 📷

Dr. Gonnella Elected to the Fellowship of the RCP

Joseph S. Gonnella MD, the Distinguished Professor of Medicine and Director of Jefferson's Center for Research in Medical Education and Health Care, has been elected to the Fellowship of the Royal College of Physicians of Edinburgh. This is an exceptional honor that recognizes his broad contributions to medical education. Dr. Gonnella served for many years as Dean of Jefferson

Medical College and Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs, Thomas Jefferson University.

He was also recently honored with a Distinguished Fellowship Award from the International Medical University of Malaysia. Dr. Gonnella has been instrumental in helping to develop that institution's programs. 📷

Edward Jaeger OPH'64, Professor of Ophthalmology, was honored at Class Day with the Leon Peris Memorial Award, given to a member of the volunteer faculty for excellence in clinical teaching.

Underrepresented Minority Scholarship Committee

During Alumni Weekend 2001, the Underrepresented Minority Scholarship Committee at Jefferson Medical College held its inaugural meeting. Committee members in attendance were Glenda W. Davis '04, Judith H. Fluellen '81, Charles Fluellen, Muriel Kowlessar MD, Preston A. Wigfall '81 and Walter Wrenn '74. Jefferson representatives in attendance were Clara Callahan PD'82, Senior Associate Dean, Admissions and Student Life, and the Lillian H. Brent Dean of Students; Edward Christian, PhD, Associate Dean, Minority Affairs and Diversity; Raelynn Cooter PhD, Director of University Financial Aid; and Lisa S. Katz, Associate Director of Development-Individual Gifts.

The committee is exploring how philanthropy can create opportunities for increasing the number of qualified applicants from groups that are underrepresented in medical education. To continue to attract outstanding students from diverse racial, ethnic and socioeconomic backgrounds as the costs of medical education grow, additional sources of aid such as scholarships, loans and grants must be available.

Throughout its history, Jefferson has emphasized the achievement of clinical excellence in its education programs. Philanthropy will help ensure that we can maintain and advance this tradition, and the committee looks forward to collaborating with alumni, students, faculty, staff, and friends to educate the best future physicians.

The committee joins Thomas J. Nasca '75, Senior Vice President of Thomas Jefferson University and Dean of Jefferson Medical College, in this vital quest to foster diversity among our medical students. New computer for the on-call room: Thanks to a gift from the Alumni Association, residents at Thomas Jefferson University Hospital now have a new computer in their on-call room giving them access to the Internet, e-mail, and LastWord, the hospital's clinical information system. Using LastWord, residents can check patient records and look up lab results.

Because the computer in the on-call room was always in use, Stephen Goldstein OTO'01, then the President of the House Staff Association, asked the Office of House Staff Affairs if a second computer could be installed. Director Debra Cifelli, knowing that the Alumni Association was always looking for ways to benefit the residents, referred this request to the Alumni Office. The Postgraduate Alumni Committee and the Executive Committee enthusiastically endorsed the project and the new computer and software were up and running in June. A plaque on the computer indicates that it is a gift of the Alumni Association to the residents.

Three years ago, as part of the ongoing effort to improve the quality of life for the residents and to help them feel more a part of the Jefferson family, the Alumni Association refurbished their on-call room. The Alumni Association will work with the Office of House Staff Affairs and the House Staff Association to identify other opportunities to assist the residents in the future.

The Dr. James D. and Jennie M. Beach Memorial Scholarship, established by The Edward P. Beach Charitable Trust, illustrates how a son's love for his parents enables new generations of physicians to benefit from the excellence of a Jefferson education.

Edward Beach, who died in 1991 at the age of 93, had established a charitable trust in his will, directing that the funds be "as a memorial to Jennie M. Beach, my mother, and to Dr. James D. Beach, my father, who graduated from Jefferson Medical College. Dr. Beach practiced for over 50 years and my mother aided and abetted his every effort and her son now gives her his full measure of devotion."

During 2000-01, one first-year student, 13 third-year students, and 23 fourth-year students received a total of $466,194 in Beach Scholarships. Pictured below are:

Philadelphia Foundation and Jefferson Form Innovative Partnership

Thomas Jefferson University, Thomas Jefferson University Hospital, and The Philadelphia Foundation have announced a groundbreaking philanthropic collaboration designed to help donors reach their charitable giving goals while providing support for Jefferson programs. The Jefferson Donor-Advised Funds is the first partnership of its kind between not-for-profit institutions and a community foundation.

Administered by The Philadelphia Foundation, this new endowed giving program provides special benefits for donors who want to simplify the management of their charitable giving, support a variety of charitable causes and advance the missions of Thomas Jefferson University and Thomas Jefferson University Hospital.

"This innovative joint venture capitalizes on the current trend toward donor-advised funds," says Thomas Jefferson University President Paul C. Brucker MD. "We are pleased to be uniting with The Philadelphia Foundation, which has such a distinguished history of commitment to our community, to bring this opportunity to donors."

Adds Thomas J. Lewis, President and CEO of Thomas Jefferson University Hospital, "The Jefferson Donor-Advised Funds will help provide the resources we need to establish vital patient care initiatives and keep pace with the constant changes and improvements in medical technology and health care practices. It is very gratifying to have The Philadelphia Foundation as our philanthropic partner."

Donor-advised endowment funds have become increasingly popular in recent years because they are flexible and cost-effective, allowing donors to recommend the charities their gifts will support after they have made tax-deductible contributions to the Funds. Among the advantages are immediate tax deductions based on the fair market value of the gift; lower managerial costs; direct involvement in grantmaking decisions; and the opportunity to design, establish and maintain a family philanthropic tradition.

"Donor-advised funds help foster a culture of giving," says R. Andrew Swinney, President of The Philadelphia Foundation.

"This unique collaboration between Jefferson and The Philadelphia Foundation, the first of its kind in the United States as far as we know, will serve as a model for other institutions to join forces and create opportunities for expanded giving." The Philadelphia Foundation, founded more than 80 years ago, manages over 400 charitable funds established by donors, using revenue generated by these funds to provide grants to local nonprofit organizations, including humanitarian, educational and cultural initiatives.

Participation in The Jefferson Donor-Advised Funds requires a minimum initial gift of $50,000. Half of the annual income available for distribution automatically supports Jefferson and the remaining half is designated for the donor's individually recommended charities, which may include Jefferson as well.

"This new giving option is a meaningful way for friends to help ensure the continuing excellence of our programs while advancing their own charitable objectives," says Thomas J. Nasca '75, Senior Vice President and Dean of Jefferson Medical College. "Jefferson Donor-Advised Funds can be created to honor distinguished faculty members, provide scholarships for future generations of students, endow teaching programs, or support other vital initiatives at the College. In making such a commitment, supporters will be helping to strengthen our educational mission, which, of course, will bring even greater distinction to Jefferson Medical College and its graduates."

Alumni Spotlight: Davis Durham '43

Jefferson Medical College turns its Alumni Spotlight on Davis G. Durham '43 whose professional and humanitarian achievements have brought honor and prestige to Jefferson.

Medical school is hard enough by itself but Dave Durham had the added burden of being dyslexic and had to memorize all his notes so as to successfully complete the medical course. Because World War II was still being fought in 1943, Dr. Durham served a nine month internship at Delaware Hospital, Wilmington, DE, then was assigned to the 63rd Infantry Division as a battalion-aid surgeon. The 63rd Division fought in France and Germany and Dr. Durham was awarded the Bronze Star, the Combat Medical Badge, and the European Theatre Ribbon with two battle stars for his service. Later, Dr. Durham was transferred to Valley Forge Army Hospital, Valley Forge, PA. At that time, it was one of two military eye hospitals in the United States, each with over 600 eye patients. Dr. Durham's interest in ophthalmology as a career was nurtured by this wartime experience.

Dr. Durham began the practice of ophthalmology in Wilmington, DE in 1946, and gained board certification in 1951. He served as Director of the Department of Ophthalmology at Wilmington Medical Center, 1966-73. With the aid of DuPont Company engineers, in 1965 he developed a pneumatic tonometer for measuring eye pressures in glaucoma patients, and in 1966 he developed the diamond knife for cataract surgery. He took no financial interest in either invention, choosing instead to contribute these advances to bettering patient eye care. In 1978 he was awarded the Distinguished Delawarean Award for Distinguished Citizenship for the gift of these two inventions to better patient care.

Dr. Durham served as Clinical Assistant Professor of Ophthalmology at Jefferson and has published 27 articles in his field of interest. He is a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons and the American Academy of Ophthalmology. Between 1976 and 1981 he served as either an instructor or as a speaker at the Annual Meetings of the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology, receiving a Certificate of Award in 1983. He is the only Delaware ophthalmologist to date to be elected to the prestigious American Ophthalmological Society. As impressive as his professional accomplishments have been, it is Dr. Durham's humanitarian activities, possibly motivated by his Society of Friends beliefs, that are particularly noteworthy.

Between 1949 and 1995, Davis G. Durham '43 has treated eyes from Alaska to Indonesia, from Haiti to China, and from Nigeria to Samoa, all at his own expense. He has operated on eyes on ships, in makeshift hospitals, and at 13,000 feet in the Peruvian Andes. On these multiple humanitarian trips he has removed cataracts, treated eye diseases, corrected a wide variety of other eye disorders, and trained local eye surgeons in up-to-date eye techniques.

His foreign medical service began in 1949 when he went to Alaska to treat blindness among the Eskimo population. He went to Samoa in 1957 under the auspices of the Department of the Interior to treat chronic conjunctivitis among the Samoan population. He became associated with Project Hope in 1960 and served as its Director of Ophthalmology for 10 years. Between 1960 and 1967, he served as a Project Hope ophthalmologist in Indonesia, in Nepal, in Peru, in African Guinea, and in Colombia. He also served with an eye group named Focus in Haiti and Nigeria. In addition, he has served as Vice President and Director of Aid for International Medicine, a Delaware group that already has provided $9 million in assistance to hospitals, medical schools and orphanages in Asia, Africa and the United States. Along the way of his multiple humanitarian travels, he also picked up a membership in the Explorers Club. His final overseas venture was a teaching mission to China in 1995. While in China he instructed Chinese ophthalmologists in the latest techniques for cataract surgery, and instructed them in the use of the latest equipment. In October 1999, the American Academy of Ophthalmology awarded Davis G. Durham '43 its Outstanding Humanitarian Award.

To Davis G. Durham '43, his sons Davis G. Jr., James F., Andrew C., Jeffrey F., and daughter Dee, Jefferson Medical College says "Well done." 🏆

The 53rd Campaign

James W. Fox IV '70, Chairman, Annual Giving

Thanks to the generosity of 3,917 Jefferson alumni, postgraduate alumni, nongraduate faculty and friends, the 53rd Annual Giving campaign exceeded all previous campaign totals, raising $2,345,045. We are grateful to these wonderful colleagues for their overwhelming vote of confidence in Jefferson.

As in the past, the President's Club was the key to the campaign's success. 702 Club members gave $1,600,457 this year which is 68 percent of the total amount raised. Our thanks go to our leaders in the President's Club and to chairman Benjamin Bacharach '56 and co-chairman Jerome M. Cotler '52.

Our non-graduate faculty demonstrates its loyalty to Jefferson in many ways, including through its gifts to Annual Giving. Under the leadership of chairman David C. Levin, M.D., 173 non-graduate faculty members contributed $160,971 to this year's campaign. We appreciate their support.

This year we expanded our postgraduate alumni Annual Giving program by recruiting an agent for every clinical department. All of our new PGA Annual Giving agents worked very hard for the campaign, writing letters to their colleagues encouraging them to make a first gift or to increase their contribution. The figures indicate their success: 351 PGAs (120 more than last year) gave $150,492 ($22,711 more than last year). 45 PGAs were members of the President's Club (up from 33 last year). We are grateful to our new PGA Annual Giving agents and know that the PGA Annual Giving program will grow each year in the future. Special recognition goes to the Department of Surgery and its agent John H. Moore, Jr. GS'85 for the greatest amount contributed ($33,750); to the Division of Emergency Medicine and its agents Shawn A. Carnevale EM'97 for the greatest percentage of participation (40 percent); and to the Department of Medicine and its agents Mark G. Graham IM'81 and Francis X. Keeley IM'60 for the greatest number of contributors (49).

The class agents for the medical school have been the mainstay of Annual Giving since its inception. Their loyalty, effort and persistence year after year have resulted in millions of dollars to support the mission of the College and we thank them. Several class agents and their classes deserve special mention. This year the 10 reunion classes raised $303,927 in honor of their reunions. We applaud the class agents and the classes that took first place in each of three categories. First place in amount given went to the Class of 1957 and class agents Phillip J. Marone and Bronson J. McNierney. The class raised $141,393. First place in percentage of participation was won by the Class of 1954 and class agent John R. Patterson. 65.8 percent of the class made a gift to Annual Giving. First place in number of contributors was taken by the Class of 1978 and class agent Duncan Salmon. 103 members of the class contributed to Annual Giving. Congratulations to all of these classes and their class agents for a job well done.

Association. I am pleased to introduce the class agent for the Class of 2001, Jennifer R. Bakker.

President Brucker, Dean Nasca and I thank all of you who have made the 53rd campaign the most successful in the history of Annual Giving. Your time, talent and gifts have helped to make Jefferson the thriving institution that it is, and we know that we can count on you to be Jefferson's partner in future successes.

PROTECT MORE OF YOUR RETIREMENT ASSETS FROM TAXES

IRS SIMPLIFIES RULES ON RETIREMENT PLAN PAYOUTS

You may benefit from favorable new IRS rules for calculating minimum payments from IRAs and other retirement accounts.

ADVANTAGES

- ✓ You may enjoy greater tax-deferred accumulations within your retirement accounts.
- ✓ Your beneficiary – a family member or friend – can spread survivor benefits over his or her life expectancy.
- ✓ With proper planning, you can identify a family trust as beneficiary of your retirement account, and required annual withdrawals can stretch over the trust's life expectancy.
- ✓ You may establish Jefferson as a beneficiary without increasing the minimum annual withdrawal.

HOW IT WORKS

A new standard table governs the minimum amount you must withdraw annually, beginning the year after you reach age 70. This amount is not affected by whom you choose as a survivor beneficiary. Simply calculate the value of your account at the end of the past year and multiply that amount by the table percentage, according to your age, to figure your minimum payment for the current year.

FOR EXAMPLE:

If you are 75, and the value of your account on December 31, 2000, was $500,000, you would be required to take out $22,936 ($$500,000 \times 4.5872\%$) during 2001. In 2002, at the age of 76, you would need to withdraw a minimum of 4.7847% of your account balance as valued on December 31, 2001.

ASK YOUR ADVISERS

- ✓ How the new rules will affect your tax and estate planning
- ✓ How your retirement account can benefit you, your family and Jefferson's future
